Assessment of Student Learning Outcomes

Administrative responsibilities for assessment of student learning outcomes rest primarily within the Office of the Provost, but emanate directly from the faculty through departments, colleges and from staff. The Assessment Coordinating Council (ACC) is the coordinating resource for assessment activities for the campus. It is composed of faculty and staff representatives from the colleges and from administrative and support units.

The OIA works closely with the ACC and it provides services in the following areas:

- Departmental Consultations
- Rubric Evaluations of Program-Level Assessment Processes
- Assessment Workshops and Events
- Faculty Learning Communities for Assessment

“Assessment is a natural, scholarly act, asking, ‘Are students learning what we want them to?’ and ‘How can we better help them learn?’”   Barbara Walvoord
