Testimonials from students who learned these strategies

➢ *If I had not implemented this strategy [learned in the SAIL course], I think I would have been very lost in completing [my] in-class assignment; however, because I had implemented elaboration [...] I am able to answer all questions on past mock tests on my own and correctly due to [elaboration]. Thus, I am feeling very confident for my upcoming exam next week.

➢ *This past week in my Physics 103 class I decided to complete the homework using generation[...]I found that it made much more sense. I got a better idea of where I went wrong and why you need to solve the problem that way.

*There is no additional tuition charge to take this course if you are registered for 7 or more credit hours.
